[No. S&P.II/BL-8(4)/58.]

New Delhi, the 20th August 1959

G.S.R. 1000.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 28 of the Indian Boilers Act, 1923 (5 of 1923), the Central Boilers Board hereby makes the following further amendments in the Indian Boiler Regulations, 1950, the same having been previously published as required by sub-section (1) of section 31 of the said Act, namely:—

In the said Regulations,

1 for the heading of Chapter XI the following heading shall be substituted, namely:—

"STANDARD CONDITIONS FOR THE DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION OF ECONOMISERS, FEED PIPES, FEED HEATERS, AND OTHER SIMILAR VESSELS";

2. after regulation 523, the following regulation shall be inserted, namely:—

"523A—Feed heaters and similar vessels fitted to feed pipes.

(a) Standard requirements materials of construction and allowable working pressure.

These shall comply with the requirements of Chapter I, II and III for riveted construction. If so welded construction, such vessels shall comply with the requirements of Chapter XII, provided that radiographic examination of welds may be waived, for pressures not exceeding 17.5 kg/cm.<sup>2</sup> (250 lbs/sq. in.). For parts of vessels of composite construction, the requirements of the appropriate regulations of the above chapters shall be complied with as may be applicable to each such part.

(b) Working pressure.

Working pressures of all parts shall be determined by the appropriate formulae given in these regulations. Due consideration shall be given to the following additional points while calculating the stresses.

The stresses due to self-weight of vessels and its contents and any superimposed vessel or other equipments, insulation and these due to static head, if any and pipes and other similar parts attached to the vessel.

(c) Safety valve requirements.

(i) Notwithstanding anything contained in Chapter VIII, every such vessel may be fitted with one safety valve. The valve may be set to below at a pressure not in excess of 10 per cent. over the maximum allowable pressure for the vessel.

(ii) The aggregate area of the valves shall be not less than that of inlet feed pipe to the vessel.

(iii) The discharge passage shall be not less in area than  $\frac{W}{CP}$  Where

W is maximum weight of inlet water.

C=25.8 sq. Cm. (4 sq. in.), and P is the pressure at which the vessel is permitted to operate. The safety valve shall in other respects comply with the requirements of Regulation 299 to 303.

The safety valve shall be capable of being lifted a distance such that the area of discharge edge shall not be less than the minimum aggregate area specified in clause (ii) above.

(d) Inspection during construction, stamping and testing. These shall comply with the appropriate Regulations of Chapter I."
